

How Relish compares.

Relish isn't a POS — it's the cinematic experience layer that sits on top of one. Here's where it wins, and where the others still do their job.

How to position it: if a restaurant needs billing, inventory and GST invoicing, Petpooja or DotPe do that — and Relish sits happily on top, turning their static QR menu into a cinematic, AI-guided experience no POS offers. Relish is the only one here that bundles AI video into a single price with no per-clip charge, and the only one with a true premium design system. Lead with the experience; let the POS keep doing the plumbing.

Competitor figures from public 2025–26 pricing pages (Petpooja, MENU TIGER, DotPe). Petpooja ~₹7,500–10,000/yr; MENU TIGER from ~$38/mo (₹3,268); DotPe pay-per-transaction. Feature rows reflect publicly documented capabilities and may vary by plan — verify the prospect's current quote. Relish · International Veg Cuisine.
